No park pool voting

By a 4-1 vote Thursday evening, Granite City Park District commissioners decided to cancel their Nov. 25 bond issue election on a new swimming pool and tennis courts, an ice rink enclosure and playground and tennis improvements.

A statement outlining the board's reasoning was issued following the decision.

Board members avoided speculation about whether they will submit a revised proposal to the public in 1979. The meeting topic was restricted to elimination of arrangements for the scheduled $1,785,000 construction referendum.

Favoring cancellation were George Sykes and Jeff Worthen, who had requested the special board meeting, Barry Loman, who had opposed holding the election, and President Jake Hinterser, who said board members had read the public's negative reaction toward the proposal.

Robert Patrick voted against cancellation and indicated he favored testing the proposal through balloting rather than through assumptions that it would lose.

A controversial part of the project was planning for a fan-shaped pool that would have surf-type waves alternating at 15-minute intervals with quiet water for swimming.

and the input that has been received by members of the board individually from residents of the district, the board has the following thoughts:

1. "There is substantial opposition to the proposed bond issue referendum of Nov. 25, 1978. That opposition seems to be based upon the following factors:

A. "Concern over the real value to the

Board statement

Following is the statement to the public issued by the Granite City Park Board following its decision Thursday night to cancel a Nov. 25 construction bond issue election:

"Based on the input of citizens of the Granite City Park District at a public meeting held on Nov. 9, 1978, for the purpose of determining attitudes toward the proposed bond issue improvements,

Datsun interest fascinates area

Will a 3,000-employee Datsun auto assembly plant costing $500 million be built near Interstate 70 and Illinois Route Three in the Quad-Cities?

Can local and state leaders resolve all obstacles that might be encountered and will unsought publicity make the company negative toward two local sites, said to be among the last four or five under consideration?

These and other questions surfaced during a weekend of varied denials, speculation and partial confirmations.

Nearly all see the prospect as capable of ushering in a "boom time" era here, and are confident that government officials would "move heaven and earth" to make it possible if there is an affirmative decision by Japan's Nissan Co., builder of Datsuns.

Nearly all of the employees would be hired from the region.

Whether public statements aired Friday are overstating the likelihood of the plant being built here is uncertain. Those familiar with the effort to attract it say there was considerable interest behind-the-scenes about six months ago but no visible activity lately.

The Press-Record was told authoritatively today that no final decision has been made on where to locate a new plant, and that the Japanese firm as well as other foreign auto producers are interested in locating in the U.S. because of the dollar-to-yen relationship, which makes American production more economical.

The Quad-City area definitely has not been ruled out, in contrast to sites in 11 states. States thought to be still in the running are Ohio, Michigan, the North or South Carolina area and possibly Tennessee.

Granite City Steel is seen as a likely steel supplier if major new auto assembly facilities are established here.

Evidence room padlock ordered

All files and evidence in the Madison County Sheriff's Department at Edwardsville have been sealed by a court order from Circuit Court Judge Harold R. Clark, leading to the unanswered question, "Why?"

Both U.S. Prosecutor Gerald Fines and Madison County State's Attorney Nicholas G. Byron told the Press-Record this morning that their offices had no part in requesting that the sheriff's department records be sealed.

Sheriff-elect Emil Toffant said he discovered Thursday that the court had sealed all of the department's files and evidence, but said he has been unable to determine why or who requested the action.

Clark was said to be in confidence with the circuit's chief judge this morning.

City defends sewage plant

No other city of comparable size in Illinois, or in any adjoining state, has discharged less pollution into any river or stream than has Granite City. Mayor Paul Schuler said Thursday during a hearing of charges by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency that Granite City, on a number of occasions, has violated national water pollution standards.

Mayor Schuler was among four city witnesses to take the stand during a hearing of the case in which the Illinois EPA is asking the Illinois Pollution Control Board to assess penalties of up to $10,000 per day for each violation the city is found to have committed.

The hearing, held in the City Hall council chambers, was presided over by Marvin Barnes, Granite City attorney, who will certify a transcript of the evidence to the pollution control board which will make the final ruling on the charges.

Primarily, Granite City admitted that violations of water pollution standards had occurred, but based its defense on an explanation that the violations were unintentional ones that were unavoidable procedures due to failure of the contract or to comply with specifications in construction of the city's secondary sewage treatment plant.

Racquetball, other YMCA memberships are offered

The Tri-City Area YMCA is promoting its fall 1978 membership campaign, Nov. 20-Dec.
18. Individuals and families purchasing a membership
during the campaign will receive a 10 percent reduction.
The 1978 campaign under the direction of John Blasingame and Dr. John Galbreath is based on a "Star Wars" theme, with over 35 active YMCA members as campaigners.

Team captains include Bill
Badger, Illinois Power Co.;
Jack Horbach, Granite City
Steel; Emylee Alford, Reliable
Loan Company; Rich
Essington, Franklin Life
Insurance Co.; the Rev. Dennis
Rutledge, Central Christian Church; Mike Meehan, attorney; Don Knight, police detective; and Ted Barylske, attorney.

Each of the team captains has four team members each who are actively promoting the YMCA memberships.
Individuals interested in purchasing a YMCA membership or receiving additional information may contact any of the campaigners or call the YMCA at 876-7200.

In addition to the 10 percent reduction on YMCA memberships, a new membership category of racquetball is available.
Three regulation racquetball courts are to be completed in early 1979, with advance memberships available during this campaign.
Individuals joining racquetball in advance will receive 10 hours of non-prime time play, a value of $30, the drive leaders said.

Mrs. Costello is re-elected

St. Margaret Mary Ladies
Club re-elected Mrs. Karen Costello president of the organization at a meeting held last week in the school cafeteria.

Others named to serve for the forthcoming year include:
Nancy Miller, vice-president;
Judy Buatch, secretary; and Gloria Kaugovich, treasurer.

The new officers will be installed at the Christmas party on Dec. 11, at Charlie's Restaurant, and they will assume duties after Jan. 1.

Reservations can be made and tickets can be purchased from any club officer or after masses on Nov. 25 and 26th, and
Dec. 2 and 3rd.

Sister Marie Monica opened the meeting with prayer, and Mrs. Costello welcomed 33 members.

Other plans discussed was the children's Christmas party set for Dec. 22, and will begin with a turkey dinner served by the ladies of the parish. A program is in the school cafeteria will be followed with an early dismissal at 2 p.m.

The Golden Age dinner for senior members of the parish will be on Dec. 10, according to Edith Borbas, chairman of the event.

A classroom attendance prize was won by the fifth grade and the evening award went to Joannette Manlove. The Thanksgiving centerpiece was won by Mickey Strack and given of month to Kim Swiatek.

Possible arson is attempted

Mrs. Herbert Grammer Jr.,
725 Twenty-Sixth St., reported finding a broken bottle with charred red material sticking from the neck near the basement door at 2:20 p.m.
Thursday.

An odor of kerosene was noted from the glass fragments and both the bottle and the charred material shattered on impact with the door or concrete steps.

The lower half of the door covered with heavy cardboard was black with smoke and soot, police said. An investigation continuing.

Neighbors sign counter complaint

After a truck allegedly splashed water from a rain puddle two or three times over a man digging a trench and the driver alleged he was later struck on the hand with a shovel, police arrested Dennis
L. Meyers, 25, of 2816 Emmer
St., and Floyd W. Smith, 61, 2823 Emmer St., on charges of disorderly conduct at 4 p.m.
Thursday.

Both men signed complaints against each other, and were taken to headquarters.

Thanksgiving observances, closings

Holiday thoughts are moving to the fore with the arrival of Thanksgiving week. The traditional observance will take place Thursday, and school students will be off on both Thursday and Friday. The Madison County Courthouse also will be closed both days.

The annual Tree of Lights campaign intended to assure Christmas cheer for needy individuals and families is set to begin with a noon luncheon tomorrow at the Salvation Army building on East 23rd Street. Granite City Rotarians will be among those participating, and the scheduled speaker is St. Louis baseball Cardinals coach Dal Maxvill.

Community Thanksgiving services were held last night at Trinity United Methodist Church and the Nameoki United Presbyterian Church, and the Rev. John Ralston will speak at an arawide Thanksgiving service at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Madison United Presbyterian Church.

Open house activities began today at the YMCA and will continue from 3:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. tomorrow.

A Santa Claus parade will begin at 9 a.m. Friday at the Venice City Hall and proceed along Broadway and then north on Madison Avenue to the Madison city limits. Santa will be at a cabin setting at 1357 Third St. for photographs Friday and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 12 noon. Additional hours are to be announced.

Santa also will arrive at Wilson Park by helicopter Friday at 10:30 a.m. and will parade on State Street to Civic Park, leaving there at 11:15 a.m. for the Ballmore Village Shopping Center. Next, he will go to the Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center, Nameoki Road, where a photo cabin will operate from 4 to 9 p.m. weekdays, noon until 9 p.m. Saturdays and noon to 5 p.m. Sundays.

While the driver services office of the Illinois secretary of state will be closed Thursday and Friday, it will be open on Saturday.

A park district bond issue election for swimming pool, playground, tennis court and rink improvements had been scheduled for this Saturday but won't be held due to a cancellation decision by the Park Board.

There will be no trash collection in Granite City on Thursday. That day's routes will be serviced the following day, and Friday's pickups will be made Saturday.

"Bowl for breath" cystic fibrosis competition will be held Friday at Bowland and Tri-Mor.

Evidence

Later, he stated the court order was not public information and declining to even confirm one existed. "That's the way it got to be," he told the Press-Record at 9:40 a.m. today.

Tofant said he has been unable to find anyone who requested the records be sealed and speculated Judge Clark may have done it on his own initiative after hearing rumors two high-ranking deputies were removing some items from the evidence vault and placing them in a deputy's automobile.

Tofant said that about 2 p.m. Friday Judge Clark and his bailiff arrived at the sheriff's department, served the court order on the department officials and had the evidence locker sealed with a big chain and a big padlock. "I told the only one who has the key is Judge Clark," Tofant noted.

The sheriff-elect said he asked the county's finance committee Thursday for an audit and inventory of the sheriff's department, but then found out about the court order sealing all of the department's records.

"I asked for the inventory and audit only as a normal business practice before taking office. But then I found out the court order had been signed and delivered before I requested the inventory. I have been unable to find out what this is all about," Tofant summarized.

U.S. Prosecutor Gerald Fines, contacted in Springfield this morning, stated, "It's apparently a local matter. Neither my office nor the FBI requested this or are in any way involved." Fines refused to say whether he had heard rumors of the deputies removing some items from the evidence area.

State's Attorney Nicholas G. Byrnes also refused to comment, other than saying, "I'm not a party to this. My office is not involved."

Datsun

Speculation centers on a 427-acre Illinois Power Co. tract south of the 270-3 intersection and a 498-acre site owned by a Union Electric Co. subsidiary northeast of the same highway intersection. Both are in unincorporated areas.

The Illinois Power site is well south of old Highway 66 (Chain of Rocks Road) but has access to that road.

The Union Electric property is believed to be about a quarter-mile north and east of Interstate 270 and its interchange with Highway Three.

The Regional Commerce and Growth Association and Tri-City Regional Port District have assisted in familiarizing the auto company with such areas and they could become linked with the port district's new Foreign Trade Zone.

However, an informed source said today that the Datsun producers were shocked by union problems encountered at Volkswagen's new auto production plant in Pennsylvania and decided as a result to reconsider whether to situate a plant in the U.S. It was learned that major assurances have been given by labor officials that there will be cooperation with such an assembly plant in Madison County. However, Nissan officials reply by saying Volkswagen also felt it had adequate assurances.

Speculation Friday is believed to have originated at the Illinois Business and Economic Development Department, and Governor James R. Thompson's administration and area legislators are planning legislation with legislative or executive actions needed to expedite attracting a plant here.

However, a key BED Department spokesman said that anything by Datsun, the timing will be soon. After Dec. 31, federal air quality rules will make it much more difficult to obtain U.S. Environmental Protection Agency approval for a new industry in this county, even one that might be non-polluting.

While all agree that Datsun representatives have visited the 270-3 area, there is disagreement over when such inspections took place.

Because of conflicting statements about the project and the fact that many high officials have no direct knowledge of the current status, caution is being urged in terms of public celebration over the prospect of such a plant locating here.

But the half-billion-dollar investment and the 3,000 jobs are fascinatingly large orders that show major economic impact would be involved.

As a result, hopes are beginning to build even though there seems to be no way of knowing at present what the odds of attracting a Datsun plant might be.

There is widespread hope that if a "green light" is given by Datsun, the timing will be soon. After Dec. 31, federal air quality rules will make it much more difficult to obtain U.S. Environmental Protection Agency approval for a new industry in this county, even one that might be non-polluting.

Official ballots numbering 20,000 will be discarded.

Hintner estimated that Hastings and Chimetta, architects, will be paid $3,500 and Architect Henry Gabriel $300 for their services.

He had no precise figure as yet on the cost of work by Chapman and Cutler, bond attorneys.

Park pool

The wave pool would have added to the installation cost of a new pool to replace the 38-year-old Wilson Park pool. But board members had felt that it and the rink enclosure would have made swimming and ice skating more self-supporting, improving the overall financial stability of the park district.

DISORDERLY CHARGE

Manuel Rio, 39, of 1719 Ferguson, Mo., was released on a $35 cash bond following a charge of disorderly conduct after allegedly causing a disturbance at 4:10 a.m. Saturday at Charlie's Restaurant.

Dave Hanson, 2547 Pontoon Road, discovered that between 9 p.m. Thursday and 6:30 a.m. Friday, thieves broke the right window of his truck. Two blue suitcases containing clothing and a black box containing 28 tapes were taken.

RELEASED ON BOND

Philip P. Dukeman, 20, of Ferguson, Mo., was released on a $35 cash bond at 9:40 p.m. Saturday following a disorderly conduct charge, after allegedly knocking holes in the wall of the men's restroom with his fist at Rico's II.

Urn filled with white snapdragons and mums intermingled with royal blue and pastel blue carnations adorned the altar and sprays of jade greenery filled the sanctuary, which was illuminated by burning tapers in hurricane lamps, for the 6:30 p.m. double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Arvin Twietmeyer.

Preceding the service Mrs. June Barton presided at the organ and played, "Colour My World," "Theme from Love Story," "Lady," "A Time For Us" and the Bridal Chorus. There are few Americans who are not daily exposed to the creative handwork of Saul Bass-Herb Yager & Associates, of Los Angeles, Calif., creator of the new Trefoil emblem of the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A.

An internationally recognized leader in visual communications, the 25-year-old organization has created corporate identity programs and packaging for such major corporations as AT&T, United and Continental Airlines, Alcoa, Quaker Oats, Hunt Wesson Foods, Lawry's, Celanese, United Way and Warner Communications.

Its bell within a circle emblem for AT&T is considered to be the country's most recognized corporate symbol.

The firm also creates films, including the Oscar winning "Why Man Creates," television commercials and mail titles and symbols for theatrical films.

Before creating the new Trefoil emblem, the Bass-Yager firm undertook a comprehensive study and analysis of the Girl Scouts and its current activities.

"An identity program deals with how an organization is perceived," President Saul Bass explained. "In creating a new visual signal for the Girl Scouts, we first determined what the optimum perception of them should be and then developed a symbol that reflects the diversity and progressiveness of today's organization."

"The emblem reflects both the proud heritage of the Girl Scouts and its new position in a changing world of youth," he added.

Although the new pins are not available at the present time the River Bluffs Girl Scout office does have stickers, patches and decals of the new emblem for Quaid-City scouts, according to an announcement by the office staff.

Patricia Roderick wed in afternoon ceremony

Patricia Marie Roderick, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Roderick, 35 Villa Drive, became the bride of Bueur J. Mihu Jr., a son of Mr. and Mrs. Bueur Mihu Sr., 2547 Pontoon Road, at St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church on Nov. 18.

The double ring ceremony was performed at two o'clock in the afternoon by the Rev. Edward Groesch before an altar adorned with bouquets of autumn flowers.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the former Miss Roderick wore a floor length gown of candlelight Qiana knit. Silk Venice lace outlined the sculptured Queen Anne neckline, enhanced the molded bodice, marked the Empire waistline, cuffed the tapered sleeves and edged the A-line skirt which flowed into a cathedral train.

The bride chose a double fingertip veil of candlelight illusion edged in matching lace and secured with a petite camelot headpiece.

She carried a cascade of everlasting silk roses in autumn shades of gold, orange, brown and beige interspersed with baby's breath and brown foliage.

Attending the bride were Mrs. Donald Deters, her sister and honor attendant, bridesmaids Mrs. Scott Bartelbort, Mrs. Kevin Zesch and Miss Carolyn Mihu, a sister of the groom.

Scott Bartelbort served as best man. The groomsmen were Jesse Brake, Steve Hurt, and Chuck Morris. Seating the guests were Donald Deters and Tim Mihu, the groom's brother.

Music for the ceremony was provided by violinist Michael Pellock, organist Lisa Grootius and vocalists Kevin Koonz and Mrs. Carol Farnsworth. Selections included "Colour My World," "Large Espresso," "Time in a Bottle," "Sunrise, Sunset," "Ave Maria," "Lord's Prayer," "The Wedding Song," and "Today."

A rehearsal dinner was given at Montelone's in St. Louis. An evening reception was held at Lewis and Clark Restaurant, East Alton.

The guest book was attended by Mrs. Jesse Brake and cake was served by Mrs. Goger Capps and Miss Lynn Calame, cousins of the bride.

Work on Edwardsville Road Nov. 27-Dec. 8

The Illinois Department of Transportation said today that Illinois Route 203 (Edwardsville Road) will be partially closed west of 20th Street on Nov. 27. The westbound traffic will be shifted to the eastbound lanes, creating two-way traffic in the southbound lanes.

This partial closure will be in effect through Friday, Dec. 1, to allow the Illinois Terminal and the Alton and Southern Railroads to rebuild their track crossings, and to allow Granite City Steel to repair its crossing.

During the week of Dec. 4-8, the two-way traffic will be shifted to the two northbound lanes to allow completion of the construction.

The crossings of the two railroads are being reconstructed with rubber crossing materials by railroad work forces, in accordance with agreements with the Department of Transportation in order to provide smoother and safer crossings.

Signing and traffic control devices will be provided to guide motorists through the construction area.

The bill does not change the minimum salary levels.

"To the extent possible, local governments should be able to set the salaries for their own officers, based on their own knowledge of revenues and workload," the governor said in his mandatory veto message.

Raise sheriff maximum pay

Governor James R. Thompson certified legislation Thursday raising maximum salary levels, with county board approval, for sheriff's treasurers, clerks, recorders and auditors in all Illinois counties except Cook County.

The governor certified the legislation after the legislature approved changes he had recommended earlier in an amendatory veto of House Bill 2256.

The bill does not change the minimum salary levels.

Sewage plant

Lance Callis, city attorney, noted in his opening argument that the city was the owner of the plant and did all in its power to correct the operational problems. The city, he emphasized, since has corrected the difficulties at the wastewater treatment plant, and now is operating within limits of the water pollution standards.

In a statement concerning the EPA's action against the city, which was filed by the office of Attorney General William Scott, said:

"The city of Granite City, through the efforts of its elected officials and cooperation of its citizens, is the most advanced in this area in the treatment of waste water."

"No other city of comparable size in the state of Illinois or in any adjoining state, discharges less pollutants into any river or stream."

"However, over the last few months there has been a problem in the operation of the treatment facility due either to design or construction. The state, through the reports filed by the city and voluminous correspondence, has been kept fully aware of the problems and the city's efforts to solve them."

"But the attorney general's office, instead of lending its efforts to help the city, has seen fit to bring charges against it and asked that fines be levied, thus increasing the tax burden of our local citizens."

"As mayor of Granite City, I think the attorney general's office is wrong, and I think the city is right."

The city of Granite City, through the efforts of its elected officials and cooperation of its citizens, is the most advanced in this area in the treatment of waste water.

Optimists honor area young people

By MICK STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer

The Granite City Optimist Club honored its youth at its Thursday noon meeting in the YMCA.

Survivors of the program to honor our youth, we are optimists, were not looking for super athletes or brilliant students. We were looking for youth who in their everyday life did really fine things for others, without any fanfare or thought of glory."

William Monical, program chairman, said.

"There are really thousands of nice, well-meaning young people in this area. Although we can't physically honor all of them, I trust these few we do honor will represent to the general public the youth of today are really something special," Monical said.

In addition to the 11 honored specifically, each Optimist member brought a youth as his guest and introduced the young person in attendance.

Each youth received a framed Certificate of Honor. "Youth Appreciation Week Citation. For upholding the dignity of youth, for a sincere devotion to our welfare and for generous and unselfish contributions to society."

Yvonne honored was a high school senior, Kathy Lynn Bellcoff, Madison, a candy stripper at St. Elizabeth Hospital. During a fire at the hospital, Kathy called her parents so they would not worry and then proceeded to assist and comfort the elderly patients who were upset and having problems changing rooms.

Terri Janavich, a sixth grader at Lake School, selected for her fine attitude towards schools, her classmates and her family. Terri is described by school officials as an "ideal student" who is a real pleasure to have around.

Judy Nicholas, a student at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, feels her calling in life is to work with people who are in need of help and spiritual guidance. She is active at Grace Baptist Church. On her own time and of her own free will, she has been helping an elderly couple with their housework and having a deep feeling for people.

Tracy Windland, who was recommended by the YMCA, was honored for her help with the "Y" day camp and building program. She was described as having a willingness to share her talent as a swimmer with everyone who would like to improve their swimming ability.

Robert Lutes Jr., 17, for four years has helped the American Red Cross in the "Adapted Aquatics" swim program for the physically and orthopedically handicapped, and amputees. Lutes gave an hour of his time every day during the summer in helping the afflicted learn to swim.

Thomas McElroy and Timothy Vaughn, two Press-Record delivery boys, were honored for their part in helping save a woman's life while they were delivering their Press-Record newspapers.

Three schools vandalized

Three area schools were the scenes of burglaries and vandalism during the weekend.

Police reported that four boys, ages 12 and 13, all of whom are being dealt with by juvenile authorities and their parents, allegedly broke into Lake School at 2:30 p.m. Saturday.

Police were advised by phone that several boys were going in and out of Lake School carrying things.

A case of soda and a box of hamburger patties were found beside the basketball back stop. One of the youths left his 20 inch bicycle at the school and telephoned police to report it stolen. This led to the arrest of the boys.

It was discovered at 12:14 a.m. Sunday that Logan School also had been burglarized.

Police were again alerted by a telephone call about boys going in and out of a vacant house in the 2400 block of Bryan Avenue.

Upon investigation several items of sound equipment, tape players, microphones and headsets were found under a porch, all marked Logan School.

Police said the school had been entered through a broken window leading into the Learning Center at the school from which the items were taken.

School authorities believe the Learning Center was the only room entered.

Coolidge Junior High School

The vandals broke beer bottles in the boys' locker room, climbed to the top of the school and knocked out the skylight, ransacked several desk drawers, in addition the throwing bricks through several windows.

Board to act on zoning, permits

New school grant offer

State School Superintendent Joseph M. Cronin last week announced the availability of approximately $15.5 million for grants to Illinois schools. The funds will be used to improve services to students and to foster imaginative solutions to educational problems.

The state is now accepting applications for the funds. Both public and nonpublic school systems are eligible to participate.

The application deadline is March 1, 1979. The grant money is provided by the federal government for the State Board of Education under Title IV, Parts B and C, of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

About $8.1 million in Part B funds is available for distribution to school districts to help them upgrade their instructional, media and library services, and their guidance counseling and testing.

The money enables schools to buy instructional materials and equipment for the classrooms; to purchase textbooks, library books and audio-visual materials; and to employ counselors and career materials and tests. Grants are allocated on a formula basis.

Supt. Cronin has approved a recommendation of the Title IV State Advisory Council to increase the funding level under the Part B allotment from $2 to $2.10 for each student enrolled, and from $2.85 to $3 for each disadvantaged or bilingual student.

Additional increases from $2 to $2.50 are awarded to school districts with very high tax rates but a lower than average expenditure per pupil, and from 25 cents to 35 cents to cooperatives.

Part C funding is awarded on a competitive basis for projects that offer innovative approaches to school programs, and for the adoption of exemplary programs. Nearly $7.4 million is available for grants under Part C.

The Madison County Board Wednesday morning will be asked to act on seven requests for rezonings or special use permits for Quad-City area townships.

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals has held on-site public hearings on the requests and will ask the County Board to follow its recommendations.

The zoning board recommends that a request of Paul Shup for a special use permit be granted so he can operate a general tool and die business in conjunction with a general machine shop along Route 162, about 114 feet east of Lake Drive. It should be stipulated that outside storage of material or equipment be prohibited, the zoning board recommends.

Also endorsed by the board is the request of Thomas Smoot to establish an office within his home at 5178 Nameoki Road, in Chouteau Township for a business to service mobile homes and supply parts. Again it is recommended the County Board stipulate that outside storage be prohibited.

The County Board is asked to approve a request from Eddie Salmond for a special use permit to operate a cafe and parking lot at the corner of Roosevelt Avenue and Harrison Street in Eagle Park Acres.

Also endorsed by the zoning board is the request of Salmond and Robert C. Wilson for a permit to place a mobile home at 205 Hill Street in Eagle Park Acres until a new residence is constructed. It is recommended the permit not exceed five years or the completion of the residence and for the sole occupancy of the Wilson family.

The board also is being asked to approve a special use permit for Ronald Schelbo to construct a pole-type building, 32 by 45 feet in size, at Route 3 and St. Thomas Road in Chouteau Township, for his personal use.

Two other permits for the placement of mobile homes are recommended for approval with stipulations that they be for up to five years and for the sole use of the persons obtaining the permits.

Dorothy Gathright and Ronald Sharon Taylor wish to place a mobile home at 107 Hill Street, Viaduct Addition number two of Venice Township, and Gordon Gass is seeking a permit to place a mobile home in an agricultural district of Nameoki Township located by driving north from the Westinghouse generating plant on Route 162 to a field road and turning left for one-half mile.

The board also is to act upon a recommendation that a special use permit under which Daniel W. Grimm is operating a towing and salvage business at 1800 Fairway in State Park Place, be revoked for alleged failure to comply with the terms of the permit.

Mrs. Lena Tretter, 91, dies

Mrs. Lena Tretter, 91, of Rural Route Six, Quail Trailer Court, Edwardsville, formerly of Granite City, died at 11:40 a.m. Thursday at her home.

Born in Hecker, Ill., Mrs. Tretter resided here 43 years prior to moving to Edwardsville.

Mrs. Tretter was a member of the First Assembly of God Church, Granite City. Her husband, Thomas Tretter, died Aug. 15, 1935. Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Vernard (Eileen) Bolton of Edwardsville; one brother, William Diefenbach of Mount Vernon, Ill.; seven grandchildren; 14 great-grandchildren and three great-great-grandchildren.

Arrest student at North High

After a monitor at Granite City High School North searched three students in the school office Thursday, police were called and arrested Phillip W. White, 18, of 4137 Pontoon Road, on a charge of possession of cannabis.

A cigarette pack, containing 10 marijuana cigarettes, and a small plastic bag of cannabis allegedly were found on the youth. The two other students were released to the principal.

Possession charge against youth, 17

Jimmy Dale Poe, 17, of 2615 W. 22nd St., was arrested in the 2900 block of State Street Thursday and charged with illegal possession of cannabis. The three other youths in the vehicle were released without charges.

Poe was in a car at the rear of Granite City High School South with three other youths, 18, 17 and 15 years old, when an officer allegedly saw five high school students approach the vehicle, talk briefly and then leave.

When the officer was walking toward the car, the vehicle began moving south on State Street, where it was halted. It was alleged that Poe had a locking blade knife in his possession. Two plastic bags of cannabis, weighing about 75.9 grams, were stuffed inside his trousers, police said. A partially smoked marijuana cigarette was in the ashtray, it was alleged.

The three other youths in the vehicle were released without charges.

Burglary at liquor store

An inventory was being taken Friday to determine what was missing from the Corner Liquor Store, 2326 Nameoki Road, in a burglary reported at 4:15 p.m. Thursday.

Sharon Jordan, who reported the incident, said plywood was torn from around a vent fan and pieces of wood securing the opening had been removed.

A resident in the 2900 block of Nameoki Road reported finding two partially full cases of soda in her yard, but said a new trash can was missing.

It was speculated the can was used to carry items from the liquor store.

Youth, 17, faces burglary charge

Robert L. Poarch, 17, of 1928 Adams St., was arrested Thursday on a warrant charging burglary.

The charge stemmed from an incident occurring at 5:15 a.m. Nov. 11, when Poarch was stopped by police at 21st Street and Grand Avenue while allegedly carrying a stereo.

The stereo was identified as stolen from Donna Ryan, 2035 Madison Ave., who had arrived home to find the front and basement doors open.

Poarch was held on a curfew violation, but then was released until the Madison County state's attorney's office could prepare documents.

He appeared before a judge at 3 p.m. Thursday. Bond was set at $1,500 and he was released on a $15,000 recognizance bond.

SCHOOL BLOOD DRIVE CHAIRMEN for the school year are Andy Hinterseer, left, Granite City High School South, and Phil Bellipanni of GCHS North. The North drive was held Nov. 10 with 141 productive units donated by students, one pint over their goal. The South drive is scheduled Monday, Nov. 27. Prior to this year, students of the two schools have donated 1,095 productive units, with 62 percent of eligible donors participating.

Over 50 child abuse cases here each year

By JINNY TUTKEN

St. Elizabeth Hospital Child abuse — 60,000 cases are reported every year in the United States. At least two children die each day as a result of abusive treatment.

Many authorities think that child abuse is the leading cause of death in children from birth to three years of age.

In Illinois, more than 2,900 incidents of suspected child abuse are being reported annually to the Department of Children and Family Services, St. Elizabeth Hospital Social Worker Bob Turck has told members of the Lake Shore Parent-Teacher Association.

At St. Elizabeth Hospital, Turck said, the Social Service Department is called in on approximately one case of suspected child abuse per week. Child abuse and neglect can be defined, according to the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services, as those situations (non-accidental) in which the child suffers physical trauma, deprivation of basic physical and developmental age five mental injury as a result of an act or omission by a parent, caretaker or legal guardian.

Abuse and neglect cover a broad range of incidents that include physical and sexual abuse; neglect of physical, nutritional, medical and safety needs; and mental or emotional neglect.

Several medical indicators recognizable by a hospital staff might raise a suspicion of child abuse or neglect, Turck said. One of the indicators is a traumatic injury — especially in infants and children under age five, such as a head injury, burn, bruise or fracture.

Another indicator, Turck said, is an injury where there is a discrepancy between the medical history and the degree, age or type of injury.

Thirdly, child abuse or neglect might be suspected where an injury is not mentioned in the history or for which there is no explanation.

An injury or poisoning occurring as a result of gross lack of supervision also might be reason to suspect child abuse or neglect, he said.

A child suffering from malnutrition, dehydration or delayed development without organic cause is another indication of suspected child abuse or neglect.

Finally, a child with advanced, untreated disease or a child given inappropriate food, drink or drugs are grounds for suspecting child abuse or neglect, according to Turck.

There also are a number of non-medical indicators that could arouse a suspicion of child abuse or neglect. A contradictory explanation of the child's injury is reason to suspect abuse or neglect; in some cases, the parent or caretaker will admit to abusing or neglecting the child, he said.

Attitude toward the child could indicate abuse or neglect, evidenced in inappropriate expectations of the child, or perception of the child as being a "special" problem.

Deinstitutionalization of a lack of concern, detachment or over-reaction to the child's injuries or the situation could be indicative of abuse or neglect, Turck said.

A history of gross immaturity of the parents or evidence of bizarre behavior, severe retardation, chronic alcoholism or drug abuse on the part of the parent or caretaker also could be indicative of abuse or neglect.

And a delay in seeking medical help, lack of cooperation concerning treatment of the child, or a lack of visitation once a child is hospitalized might raise a suspicion of abuse and neglect.

In addition to indications given by the parents, the child could exhibit certain behavior, such as unusual hyperactivity, aggressiveness or detachment to arouse suspicion of abuse or neglect.

Unhygienic or improper appearance or exhibition of major developmental lags are also reasons to suspect abuse or neglect. Again, as in the case of the parent or caretaker, a child may make a statement that someone has been abusive toward him, he noted.

When a case of child abuse or neglect is suspected by the St. Elizabeth Hospital staff, a social worker is notified so that a complete social history can be obtained.

After a medical history is taken, necessary laboratory tests are ordered, and the physician has a discussion with the physician, nurse and social worker meet to determine a disposition concerning admission and filing of an abuse report, Turck explained.

The decision to file that report, as well as procedures and ordered tests, is explained to the family.

The physician emphasizes the fact that the hospital has a legal obligation to file cases of abuse and neglect and that the intention of the report is to give a complete assessment and provide help for the family.

After the physician explains the medical disposition, the social worker sees the family answers questions, and informs the family of what might be expected in terms of follow-up planning.

Finally, the social worker offers hospital recommendations to the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services. In the meantime, the social worker maintains a relationship with the family during the child's hospitalization and following discharge.

Most cases of child abuse should be admitted to the hospital, Turck said. This action allows the child immediate protection and gives an opportunity for not only medical and social evaluation but for in-depth planning with the family in the best interest of the child.

An admission of the child to the hospital, Turck noted, is based on the consent of the parent unless conditions exist to justify a physician taking protective custody of the child.

Under the law, he explained, a physician may take temporary custody based on a reasonable belief that the continuing care by the parent or guardian presents an imminent danger to the child's life or health.

In other legal issues, the Abused and Neglected Child Reporting Act provides that any person making a report in good faith will have immunity from any liability and that good faith will be presumed.

"When a person is considering reporting a suspected child abuse, she or he should remember he is not under obligation to prove abuse or neglect, and that he will not suffer legal repercussions," Turck emphasized.

The Illinois Department of Children and Family Services stresses every citizen's moral obligation to report any situation hazardous to children and requests immediate notification if abuse or neglect is suspected.

Faces 4 charges

William Lee Longwich, 42, of 2012 Wayne Ave., faces four charges after a beer can was thrown through the dining room window at the home of Carl Perkins and Don Carroll, 3000 Dale Ave., last week and Perkins was cut by flying glass. He suffered a cut to his back. After the window was broken, persons in the home looked out and saw a man whom they alleged was Longwich, run away. Police were notified and later stopped Longwich's truck near his home. Officers alleged it was being driven in a reckless manner and Longwich resisted police when they were arresting him, officers said. He was charged with reckless driving, driving while his license was suspended, resisting arrest and with criminal damage to property, the latter on a complaint signed by Carroll.

Teens learn to entertain

"Come on over to my house" may be the only invitation needed by many teens for an excuse to get together. And where there are young people there is bound to be food. Young people may now enroll in a new 4-H foods project called Teens Entertain, says Jan Perkins, a Madison County extension adviser in home economics.

Teens enrolled in this project will learn how to prepare party menus and recipes. Questions such as, "Why am I always hungry?" "Is snacking bad?" and "What shall I serve?" will also be answered in project handbooks. In addition, this foods and nutrition project will offer teens an opportunity to plan a luau, a fondue funfest or a pizza party. Each member will have a chance to experience activities relating to calories and weight management.

Other activities included in the new project are studies of food advertisements, etiquette and how to plan and prepare food for senior citizens and tiny tots.

"Would you like to know more about the foods you eat and the nutrients you need to look and feel your best? Call the Madison County Extension office at 666-8400 and ask how you can enroll in a 4-H foods project," suggests Miss Perkins.

Cougars win 3-2 thriller from Bills; face Goldschmidt and Hoosiers Sunday

ST. CHARLES, Mo.—It was a story book finish. The goat of the team's last game loss vindicated himself and the team's leading scorer who had been struggling with a dismal slump both turned it all around Sunday afternoon as the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville soccer team qualified for another shot at a national NCAA championship by defeating St. Louis University, 3-2, in three overtimes.

The goat turned here was the Cougars defensive star, Tim Clark, and the SIUE ace who suddenly shed his slump by scoring the game's winning goal was Don Ebert.

The victory for the Cougars ran their record to 14-2-1 and gained them the right to play the nation's No. 1 collegiate soccer power, the University of Indiana, next Sunday afternoon at Bloomington, Ind., with the kickoff set for 2 p.m. The loss, which closed out the Bills' season, dropped St. Louis U. down to 16-3-1.

It was the second straight year in which the Bills of Harry Keough failed to advance in the NCAA Midwest regional.

Indiana advanced with a 3-1 victory over Cleveland State, the only eleven this season to beat (1-0) the Hoosiers. Last year, SIUE beat the Hoosiers, 3-2, in four overtimes in the Midwest first round competition.

Clark, who accidentally saw the game's winning goal scored off of his foot in the Bronx Boat game just a week ago Friday to let St. Louis go up on the Cougars 4-3-1 in that thrilling series, scored the game's first goal against St. Louis Sunday at Lindenwood College's astro turf field before 3,182 fans.

And then when it looked like the Cougars (trailing 2-1) with less than ten minutes to go, it was Clark who set up SIUE's tying (2-2) goal by feeding a pass to Dave Hundert for the goal.

And, in addition, Clark played even better than his customary game on defense for the Cougars. It looked like he thought he had something to prove to himself, his teammates and the SIUE student body. He was truly sensational.

In the third overtime (15 minutes, sudden death), Ebert took a pass from Dave Hundert and headed the ball past a diving ... and frustrated ... Jim Tietjen for the game's winning goal. He now has 16 goals and six assists for 22 points.

Park Banquet set tonight

GRANITE CITY — Plans have been finalized here for tonight's annual Granite City Park District Awards Banquet, to be held at the GCHS-South cafeteria at 7:30.

Award winners from all the Park District teams of the past season will be the honored guests and several special guest speakers have been lined up.

Those set to speak tonight are former Granite City and now Baseball Cardinal coach Dal Maxwell, Cardinal catcher Ted Simmons and KMOX-TV sportscaster Kevin Slater.

TWO HEADS are better than one ... and four arms are even better. Here, Granite City South volleyball players Gwen Simpson (42) and Terri Meagher go up for a ball at the same time and appear to be one player ... with four arms. South lost to Belleville Althoff in three games in the first round of the Belleville West Invitational Friday.

YBA basketball puts emphasis on participation, having fun

GRANITE CITY — It's a time both youth directors and parents have seen countless times.

Frank's two out in the ninth inning and Johnny's teammate strikes out.

Or the clock is running out and Johnny's teammate drops a "sure" touchdown pass. Or misses free throw.

"Why'd you miss the ball, Johnny screams. "We could have won ... we could have been the champs.

There could be tears ... even fist fights.

All because a nine-year-old missed a ball or the basket.

That's why the professionals at the YMCA together with members of the NBA Players Association developed YBA.

YBA basketball is different. In YBA basketball, the name of the game is values, participation and fun. Everybody plays.

No players are "cut" or not allowed to "make" the team. When a boy or girl signs up for the YBA at the YMCA, they are automatically a member of a team. Parents or guardians are involved in league play as volunteer coaches, team and league managers and in other capacities.

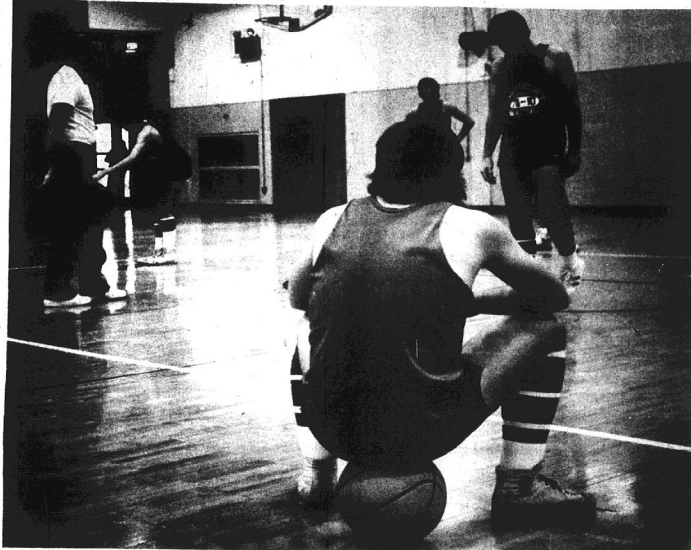

Designed by the YMCA with help from the NBA Players Association, the concept was fully tested before play began three years ago. In the initial season there were more than 700 participants in about 600 YMCAs.

"YBA was an instant and overwhelming success because too many kids had suffered through being told they "weren't good enough" to play other sports or coaches wouldn't let marginal players have an opportunity," said Rains. "In the YBA, we frankly don't think a 10 or 11 year old kid is emotionally ready to accept either the false adulation of a championship victory or the bitter sorrow of defeat. "We think basketball is a fun game and it should be played that way."

Information on registration, fees, adult volunteers and other facets of the YBA may be obtained at the Tri-City Area YMCA, 876-7200.

South falls to Althoff

BELLEVILLE — The Granite City High School South girls' volleyball team fought valiantly here Friday night, but fell to highly-touted Belleville Althoff in the first round of the Belleville West Invitational Tournament.

Althoff has gotten off to one of the fastest starts of the season among area schools, having lost only one game in its first two games and came into the match with South sporting a 16-2 record.

The Warriorettes were dominated in the first game, 20-10, but fought back in the next two and ended up losing by the narrowest margin allowable in volleyball ... two points in the final game, 22-20 after rallying to win the second game 20-18.

"This wasn't really a very good night for us," said South

Coach Wilma Schulze. "There were a couple of people in our lineup who were a little off in their games."

Despite the not-so-hot reaction from Schulze, the Warriorettes did manage to regain some strength and defeat Althoff in that second game after being completely dominated in the first one.

The Lady Crusaders jumped out to a quick 5-0 lead and never lost it in the first game.

In the second game, the Warriorettes jumped out to a 4-1 lead, only to fall behind by a count of 11-5. But at that point setter Terri Meagher and Gwen Simpson combined to serve South back into a 19-11 lead.

Althoff did manage to come back for a short-lived 15-13 lead. South came back to lead at 16-15.

Then Althoff put pressure on South and threatened to take the match in two straight games when it came back for an 18-17 lead. But South managed to come back once more to finally win the see-saw contest 20-16.

"I'm glad we finally showed we can come from behind," said Schulze. "Before tonight, we'd had a little trouble when we got behind in games. But we showed we can come from behind tonight."

The Warriorettes thought they would be without the services of star spiker Gwen Simpson, who had been fighting a bout with mononucleosis, but she managed to play and helped spark some South rallies.

In that third and decisive game, South found itself trailing 19-13 and Althoff was about ready to drive the final nail into the Warriorettes' coffin. But the South squad found enough left in it to come back and make the game close.

South came back to take a 20-19 lead on a series of thrilling plays, but Althoff regained its serve with South having two tries at the match-point. The Lady Crusaders came from behind to win the match.

"We've played some tough competition this season," said Schulze. "But we haven't been able to beat the better teams."

"Volleyball is really quite a psychological game," said Schulze. "You can look very bad one game and then turn right around and make the other team look just as bad in the next game. But overall ability may not have much to do with that."

No. 1 ... but now he's watching from the bench

By NANCY WEIL for the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE — If spoken in the parlance of the man on the street, it would have been something like this: Bob Bozada was Coach Bob Guelker's No. 1 first-round soccer draft choice in the recruiting war to land the star Aquinas High School kicker's signature on an intent to enroll at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

But, after playing a very key role in the Cougars late season surge in the 1977 campaign which ended up with SIUE finishing third in the NCAA national tournament at Berkeley, Calif., Bozada has been used very sparingly this season.

"Life lately has not been easy for the short and stocky Bozada, but he had not given up and he does not plan on giving up. As he relaxed comfortably in his

Tower Lake apartment at SIUE with just a few days from NCAA Regional competition, Bozada explained his feelings. "Well, it is really hard to be the No. 1 recruit in high school and a U.S. national team member and watch the games from the sidelines."

Rather than being bitter and constantly depressed, Bozada is grateful. He is grateful that his injuries have not completely ruined his career and he is thankful for the help and support he has received. "Really, it is nothing to complain about. With two injuries, I have been lucky. Bud (Buddell, the SIUE trainer) has done all he can. With all my workouts, my speed and wind are coming back," said Bozada matter of factly.

There are others who have helped Bozada through this difficult year. "My family is just unbelievable; they go to all the games, and they are really supportive. They even spent their vacation in Colorado to watch me play soccer, and they plan to go to Florida if we make it," he said with much respect. The NCAA finals are at Tampa, Fla., early in December.

Coaches, both past and present, have also helped Bozada. "Bob O'Leary, who played pro with the California Surf, really helped me a lot. And then there is Rick Benben, Guelker's assistant coach, who has given me a lot of individual help," he said.

Bozada is very much accustomed to receiving publicity. This year, he has not gotten as much as usual. But publicity is not what Bozada is after. "There is always time for publicity. It helps in that it builds a name for the future when it comes to getting a job. But I like it because it is my family name that is mentioned," explained Bozada, who really is very sincere in his family pride. Bozada also has pride in the fact that he is representing his school. "I'm doing the things I do for SIUE. It felt good last

North is pinning hopes on 'past experience'

By KEVIN ALLEN
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY The prevailing question facing North's basketball coach Bill Ohlendorf this season is "Can experience and aggressive play make up for a lack of any towering dominating players?"

The Steelers, attempting to turn around last season's dismal 4-21 record, will return five lettermen from the squad of a year ago. The group consists of two seniors and three juniors. Add another non-lettering senior, five juniors, and one sophomore to that, and you have a team that plays on experience.

But for all that timing the Steelers still don't have a member of the team taller than 6'2". So when Ohlendorf says, "Experience is our biggest advantage," you are inclined to agree.

Russ Chappell, Dennis Page, Greg Luehman, Bob Batey, and Mike Robertson are the returning lettermen, Chappell and Luehman are seniors, the rest are juniors.

Senior Tom Greco, juniors Keith Burton, Mike York, Greg Faulkner, Kevin Cripps, Tim Dudley, and sophomore Rich Takmajian round out the squad. Ohlendorf is hesitant to make predictions, but maintains a guarded optimism about his chances this season. "You're always a little optimistic at the beginning of the season," he said. "But I'll have to wait until we prove ourselves before I'm convinced of anything."

If not optimistic, Ohlendorf is hopeful. Despite his poor record last season, the coach said, "We're definitely not rebuilding. I think these kids can play with anyone. I think will be the five who start," he added.

In addition to their scoring prowess, the Steelers will have to be an aggressive team. Ohlendorf sees quickness as a definite advantage. "We're quick enough," he said. "We can keep up with anyone."

But don't call the Steelers a running team. "We prefer to call it control instead of running. We'll run on a given occasion, but generally we'll not be known as a fast break team," said the coach. "We've got a lot of kids who can shoot and hopefully our defense will keep us in the game."

The Steelers will also rely on a pressure defense, taking advantage of some physical strength. Two players in particular, Page and Luehman, represent this. Tom Greco and Keith Burton, both members of North's football team, will have to use their strength to supply the muscle for the Steelers.

Greco at 6'2" and Burton at 6'1" 190 lbs. got the position by default, according to Ohlendorf. "They'll have to take a lot of the load, physically, because they're the biggest and strongest."

"They've been working and checking off real hard, though. We've been stressing that to the utmost. So we'll use pressure defenses and pray a lot," he said.

The football players, Greco and Burton, and soccer players, Batey and Robertson, just joined the squad two weeks ago following the conclusion of those sports at North. But, according to Ohlendorf, the team is shaping up nicely.

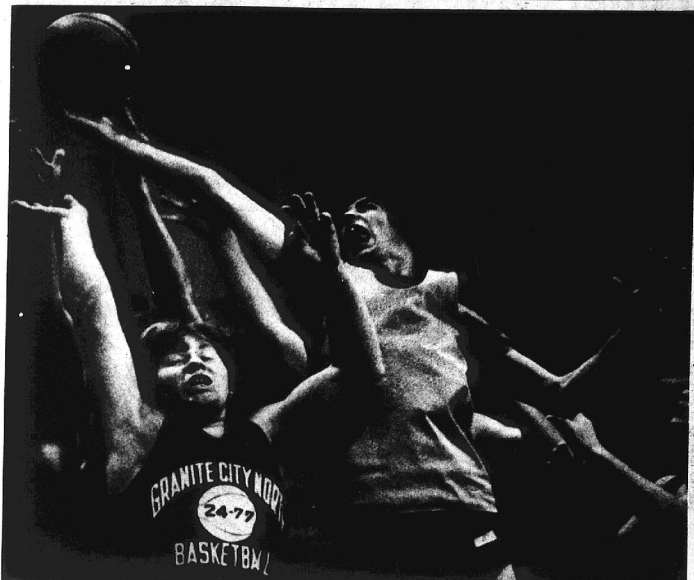

The team played their first intra-squad game last Friday. "Up until now we've just been we'll compete from day one," Ohlendorf's positive attitude probably stems from his knowledge that many of last year's players are returning with another year of playing time. Last season, according to Ohlendorf, the whole story wasn't told by the record. "We've always been competitive," he said. "We only won four games last year, but we were competitive in every game."

This season, in order to compensate for their lack of height, the Steelers will have to exploit their strong points. According to Ohlendorf, they are blessed with a talent for scoring points. Last year's leading scorer, Page, is returning along with good outside shots by Luehman and York. They will make up the backbone of the Steelers' offense.

While Ohlendorf refuses to designate a starting five, it's obvious that Page, Luehman and York will see a lot of playing time. The Steelers, probably because of their abundance of upperclassmen, will use eight or nine players every game, said Ohlendorf. "The kids who played the best the week preceding a game

NORTH CAGER Tom Greco (right) grimaces as he goes up for a rebound during a recent practice. The Steelers basketball team will be looking to take advantage of experience learned the past two seasons when it takes to the court for the first time Dec. 1 at home against Wood River.

"Our younger players will be able to contribute a great deal. Hopefully they'll all get a lot of playing time, and that should be helpful next year," said the coach.

But this year the Steelers must hope that they can offset some physical limitations by

Venice wants to get back on top of the heap

By PETE HAYES
of the Press-Record

VENICE — It's a long way to the top. But according to Venice basketball Coach Ken Perkins, his Red Devil cagers may not have forgotten what it's like once you get there.

Perkins, now in his second year at the Venice helm, said the 1978-79 basketball season could begin to show some dividends from the long, hard hours he and the squad put in last season. The Devils started out with a string of 10 straight losses last season, but managed to finish with a 5-11 mark and look to powerful Lovejoy-Brooklyn by just one point in the Class A (small school) Regional held at Expo, Lovejoy went on to fall to Madison by another one-point margin in the regional final.

That shows a lot of progress on one season, huh coach? "We made quite a lot of progress once we got that first victory under our belts last season," said Perkins. "But I didn't think that first one would ever come."

Something else Perkins wasn't too sure of was whether or not he'd even have a coaching position at Venice High this school year. In fact, there were some who weren't sure if there was going to be a Venice High.

Because of a decline in fees, Venice had for several cutbacks were contemplated. Perkins is last on the seniority list at Venice. Guess who would have gone first?

But what about his outlook going into this season compared to his outlook of a year ago? Last season Perkins was named to the position of head coach after the school year had already begun. Not exactly a lot of time to get a pre-season conditioning program in gear.

"Last year was a big learning process for us," he said. "At first, all I was concerned about was getting fundamentals down. Now this season, I feel we're about as fundamentally sound as we can be and we're starting to work on some more complicated drills."

Perkins said there is one thing he hopes to change about his team compared to last season. "I want us to be more aggressive," he said. "We're going to try to control things in the game rather than be controlled ourselves."

Perkins also said he thinks this year's team will be more adept to what other teams do. "We'll have more complicated offenses and defenses," he said. "I think we'll have something to match whatever somebody throws at us."

Not only has Perkins toughened up the practice sessions for the Red Devils, he's also toughened up the schedule. Six teams as St. Louis Central, Jacksonville, Vashon (St. Louis) and Sumner and the Venice lineup of opponents.

"If we're 3-2 after our first five games (St. Paul, Jacksonville, Madison, Sumner and Vashon), I'll be happy," said Perkins.

Perkins said trying to put back the tradition and confidence that at one time was automatically associated with Venice basketball teams has not been an easy chore, but that he thinks some headway has been made. "I think these guys remember enough about the way things used to be around here that they want it," he said. "And our last few ball games last season were enough to tell them they could do it on the basketball court."

As far as this year's team is concerned, Perkins said a lack of a big man in the middle will be a factor in how he formulates an attack plan. "We do have a lack of size," he said. "Our tallest man is 6-4, but he plays the outside."

The player Perkins was referring to is Ricky Jones, who started last season under the basket, but was moved to the forward spot about midway through the campaign. "He's probably the best pure shooter on the team," said Perkins. "He's got a real soft touch."

He said the team will have to depend on two things to make up for the lack of size. Speed and outside shooting.

"We're in a funny position," said Perkins. "We're sure not the slowest team around, but we do have a blazing speed, either."

Besides Jones, Perkins said the outside shooting of Reggie Mathis and Donald Gardner could be a key to some games. "Reggie came along real well last season," he said. "He worked out with weights all summer and got into very fine shape. Besides that, he also grew about three inches in height, which sure doesn't hurt our cause any."

According to Perkins, the two players he will be expecting to lead the team will be Mathis and Terry Arnold, a 5-11 guard. Mathis holds down the other guard slot at 6-1.

Arnold is a player who started out slowly last season and gained momentum. He was voted the team's Most Improved Player last season. Gardner, said Perkins, will be the team's "silent spark plug."

"Donald is a quiet sort of kid," he said. "But he gets things done out on the floor, which teams do Perkins think will have the best shot at the IHSA Class A state championship come "March Madness" time next spring.

"In this area, I'd have to say Madison, Lebanon, Lovejoy and maybe St. Paul. As far as Southern Illinois is concerned, I have to go with Nashville (the defending champ) as the odds-on favorite to win it again. They only lost Patton (guard Paul). If they can replace him, they've got a good chance to go all the way again."

Other Southern Illinois schools Perkins rates as possible contenders are Cairo, Mounds-Meridian and Metropolis.

Incidentally, Perkins feels there's one more school which just might have a shot at getting out of this area in the spring... Venice.

Coughlan says his recruiting will be very selective. "The runners we recruit are going to have to be excellent," he continued. "It will take a super runner to make our team next year with what we have coming back."

Eight of his top 12 runners will return from a team that compiled a 7-1 dual meet record and won the 19-team Purdue University Invitational.

The Redbirds' only dual meet loss came to Southern Illinois University by a single point. ISI also placed fourth in the Illinois Intercollegiate, sixth in the Central Collegiate and 12th in the NCAA District IV meets.

"We felt we had a super season," Coughlan said. "We feel this way for two reasons. One, we won against some very high caliber competition which included a number of Big Ten schools, and we won the Purdue Invitational."

"That was the highlight of our season," Coughlan said. "We placed six of our runners in the top 11 and three of the top six were freshmen."

Leading the pack for the Redbirds during the season were junior Captain Dave Irion (Normal Community), Mike Matteson of Aurora (West) and freshman Herman Sahneyah of Tuba City, Ariz., Jim Galen of Delton (Thorridge) and Mike Baker of Granite City (North).

"Dave and Mike showed their consistent excellence all year," Coughlan continued. "And the freshmen were a pleasing surprise. It's always nice to see freshmen beating Big Ten juniors and seniors. It's a pleasing environment to have."

Although no member of the ISI squad qualified for the NCAA national meet, Coughlan wasn't too disappointed.

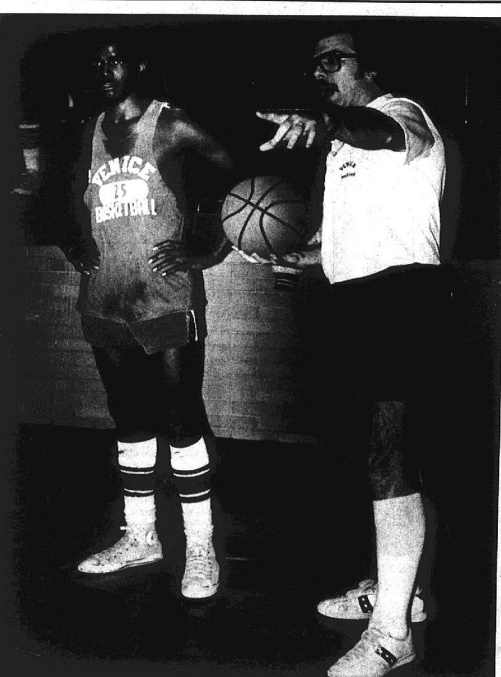

"The nationals were a secondary goal for us when the season began," he noted. "Our first goal was to stamp ourselves as a winning team."

"Secondly, we wanted to become a power in the Midwest, which we felt we have done as our record indicated. If we had qualified anyone for the nationals, it would have been a real gravy to the season. Next year, we'll shoot for the nationals."

Coughlan says his recruiting will be very selective. "The runners we recruit are going to have to be excellent," he continued. "It will take a super runner to make our team next year with what we have coming back."

Why did Perkins schedule such tough opponents? "I feel that if a team's going to do anything in the state tournament, it has to play some people," he said. "You can't go through a season playing paties and then expect to beat people in the regional."

Which teams do Perkins think

KEN PERKINS (right) gives some instructions to his team during practice Friday as Red Devil cager Donald Gardner looks on. Perkins and his Venice basketball squad are hoping to improve on a 5-18 record and begin their regular season Nov. 28 at home against St. Paul of Highland.

McKendree's Porter steps down
LEBANON—McKendree College soccer coach Howard Porter who was named NAIA coach of the year 1986 District 20 earlier this week has resigned his position as head of the Bearcat Kickers.
 Porter, who led this year's soccer team to an 11-5 season finish, assumed duties as director of the college's computer center earlier this year, taking on a number of added responsibilities.
 "I decided if I would ever hurt the program in any way, I would resign," said Porter, who has coached the Bearcats from 1978 to where they are today. Compiling a 51-32-3 record in his seven seasons at the team's helm he continued, saying, "I feel I have taken the team about as far as I can with my abilities and the last thing I want to do is hurt the program."

Porter and his 1978 edition of the Bearcats finished the season with the best record ever, undefeated on home turf, ranked second in NAIA District 20 and in the top twenty NAIA teams nationwide.
 Plans for a replacement are indefinite at this time according to McKendree College athletic director, Harry Statham.

I Bet You Didn't Know BROUGHT TO YOU BY MILTON MATHEWS

Can you name the 3 teams in the National Football League that have NEVER changed head coaches? ... They are Dallas, which has had Tom Landry as head coach ever since Dallas came into the NFL in 1960, and Tampa Bay and Seattle who've had John McKay and Jack Patera as their only head coaches.

Who was the smallest person ever to win the Heisman Trophy as the best college football player in the nation? ... Answer is Davey O'Brien of TCU who stood only 5'7" and weighed less than 150 pounds ... O'Brien won the Heisman in 1938 — and then became a star quarterback in the National Football League, winning All-Pro honors his rookie season, and never missing a game in his NFL career.

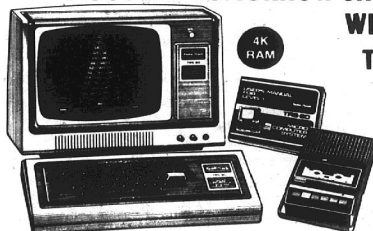

Which city has hosted the Super Bowl the most times? ... Although both Miami and New Orleans hold the current record, having had the Super Bowl 4 times each, Miami will assume the lead next January by hosting its 5th Super Bowl ... The only other cities where the Super Bowl has been played are Los Angeles, 2 times ... Pasadena once ... and Houston once.

There's an Answer!

by Norman Vincent Peale and Ruth Stafford Peale

Why prayer? For fellowship with God

Q. I've heard my friends say, "Why pray? Since God's will is always done, then why pray for anything? That's the answer!"

A. Your friends' ideas are based on a total misconception of what prayer actually is. It is not a "gimmie" mechanism.

Rather, it is an act which brings the person who prays into fellowship, or you might even call it friendship, with God. It can be thought of as a conversation with a caring, loving person.

Out of this relationship come insights, guidance and better attitudes. These in turn produce a more creative life.

We are sending you our pamphlet, How To Use the Power of Prayer, which is free to any reader of this column. Write to us at Box 500, Pawling, N. Y. 12564.

Has been there
Q. In your column was a letter from a 41-year-old woman who said her husband does nothing but "ride up and down the road and get drunk and come home and raise heck at me and the kids." I was disappointed in your answer.

His behavior is typically alcoholic, and I'm surprised that educated, enlightened people such as yourselves couldn't spot this as the problem.

He has an addiction and needs help to overcome it. And his wife needs information on alcoholism and support for herself.

Alcoholics Anonymous, Al-Anon, Mental Health Centers, Alcoholism Treatment Centers, all are excellent sources of information. You would be doing your readers a great service to suggest they get outside help immediately.

The sooner they do, the better the chances of regaining a sane and normal life. I know; I have been there.

A. Thank you for your comment. I agree that such behavior is, as you say, typically alcoholic. However, I have known mean guys to act as described.

Their meanness comes out under the influence of alcohol, but they are not necessarily alcoholics.

We agree that the wife does, indeed, need the supportive help of such organizations as Alcoholics Anonymous and Al-Anon. Such outside help is very important and one should make every effort to make it available to the excessive drinker.

State expansion of special education region questioned

School regionalization can be carried to too great an extreme, it was asserted at a meeting sponsored by the Educational Information Committee for Local Control of Schools.

State Rep. Celeste Stiehl of the host city of Belleville, commented, "Ours is the only region in Illinois where the regional superintendent of schools administers both the special education and educational improvement centers."

With the exception of the administration of improvement centers by the Macoupin County regional superintendent, all centers in the rest of Illinois are administered by boards of education, school districts or special education cooperatives.

Mrs. Stiehl was one of four participants on a panel which included Steve Balen, Madison County Special Education District, Ralph L. Cox, superintendent of Belle-Valley schools and Leonard Parrish, superintendent of the Harmony-Elis-Emge District.

Martha R. O'Malley, superintendent of the St. Clair County Educational Service Region, is the administrative agent for the special education regional service centers and educational improvement centers for the counties of Madison, Bond, Christian, Fayette, Jersey, Macoupin, Monroe, Montgomery, Randolph and St. Clair.

Balen said, "Special education has lost quite a few services this year because of a change in the control of funds from the SIRSEA agency to the regional superintendent's office. This, in my opinion, was bungling on the part of the Illinois Office of Education. It has stopped services for some of the boys and girls in my district."

Cox informed the group that the Illinois Office of Education has divided the state into ten geographical areas for the purpose of regionalizing special education services and educational improvement centers.

"No local districts had any input into this process, and I think the State Board of Education and Illinois Office of Education are using this ten-county region as a pilot program to implement the Stephens Report."

Committee members stressed that their purpose was not to debate program, services or the suppliers of services but to address fully a basic question: "Why did the Illinois Office of Education push ten counties into one special education district when the smaller five-and-a-half county optional cooperative was working well?"

Rep. Stiehl complimented the assembled group on the "town meeting" format of studying and evaluating the issue.

"Communication is important. Not one legislator was in favor of the Stephens Report in the spring of 1977," she remarked.

Further meetings are planned in order to continue discussion concerning regionalization within the ten-county area and the state.

Hearing set on development jobs

The Madison County Community Development Committee will hold a public hearing Tuesday, Nov. 20, at 7 p.m. at the Madison County Courthouse, Edwardsville.

The purpose of the meeting will be to provide citizens a review of proposed projects throughout Madison County to be undertaken with Community Development Funds for 1979-1982. The public is invited to attend.

Microwaves perform best on tender beef

Generally the more tender the beef, the better the microwave cooking results. Less-tender cuts of meat can be cooked in microwaves, particularly ovens with variable cooking powers or a defrost cycle. Microwave ovens can't cook every cut of beef as well as conventional methods. Some cuts cook unevenly, especially steaks containing several muscles such as sirloin, T-bone and porterhouse. Less tender cuts of beef, which usually require braising (cooking in moist heat) to reach tenderness, may be prepared in a microwave. Lower the speed of cooking by adding other foods, since a larger quantity of food cooks more slowly than a small amount. Marinate less-tender cuts in an acid liquid containing vinegar or lemon juice, pound them thin or cut into thin strips.

tortillas (or pita bread) on plate. Heat one minute, or until hot. Watch carefully so they don't dry out. To serve, spoon beef mixture into tortillas or pita bread. Pass yogurt, tomatoes and raisins as garnish. Makes four to six servings.

CHINESE STYLE PEPPER BEEF
 1 lb. round steak, sliced into 1/4-inch strips
 3 tbsps. soy sauce
 2 tbsps. butter
 3 tbsps. dried onion soup mix
 1/2 tsp. ginger, fresh (grated) or ground
 1/4 cup water or beef broth
 1 green pepper, seeded and sliced
 1 small can water chestnuts, drained and sliced
 2 tomatoes, cut into wedges
 1/2 cup fresh mushrooms (about 2 oz.)
 3 tbsps. sesame seeds (optional)

NOMAD'S BEEF PILAF
 1 1/2 lbs. lean beef stew, cut into 1/2-inch cubes
 1 medium onion, chopped
 1 large clove garlic, minced
 2 tbsps. cooking oil
 One and one-third cups beef broth
 3/4 tsp. oregano
 1/4 tsp. cinnamon
 1/2 tsp. allspice
 1/2 cup cooked rice
 Tortillas (or pita bread halves)
 Plain yogurt, sliced tomatoes, golden raisins

Combine beef, onion, garlic, oil, broth, oregano, cinnamon and allspice in 2-quart round ovenproof glass baking dish with cover. Mix well. Cover and cook with full power (high) in microwave oven, stirring twice, for 10 minutes. Mix in rice. Cover and cook on high 25 minutes, or until meat is tender. Remove meat mixture from oven. Stack

Timberland threatened

By RICHARD L. LESHNER
President

U.S. Chamber of Commerce
Like Dr. Frankenstein's monster, yet another environmental program created with good intentions threatens to get out of control and cause a lot of harm.

The program is the identification and designation of certain public lands as "wilderness areas," which will thereafter remain closed to virtually all human activities. It is known as RARE II, for Roadless Area Review and Evaluation, phase II.

The Wilderness Act of 1964 was passed to direct federal land managing agencies to set aside certain lands as areas "where the earth and its community of life are untrammeled by man, where man himself is a visitor who does not remain."

As of April 1, 1978, there were 175 areas classified as "wilderness," totaling more than 16.6 million acres. Another nine million acres are awaiting congressional designation as wilderness.

If this "wildernessification" stopped there, the economic impact would be limited. But in the last Congress, the House passed and the Senate was considering legislation adding 66 million acres of Alaska to the National Wilderness Preservation System.

The Forest Service has identified 62 million acres for possible inclusion in the system. And the Bureau of Land Management—which was not even covered by the original Wilderness Act—is studying its lands for suitable wilderness areas.

An estimated 120 million acres of BLM land meet basic wilderness area requirements. By way of background, it's important to know that the federal government owns about one-third of America's land, and that from this land comes much of our timber, natural gas, petroleum and other minerals.

The land is also used for recreational purposes, grazing and as a source of water for irrigation.

If too much of this land is withdrawn from its traditional "multiple use" designation, then there will be shortages of many valuable commodities. And shortages mean higher prices.

Here's a rundown on what's at stake if the monster breaks out of the laboratory:

—There are 486 million acres of productive timberland in the country. The Forest Service manages 18 percent.

The nation harvests 66.2 billion board feet of timber per year. In 1977, almost 10.5 billion board feet came from the national forests.

RARE II areas contain 26.5 million acres of commercial land with the ability to produce an annual programmed harvest of 3.075 billion board feet (nearly 25 percent of the National Forest System total) and a long-term potential yield of 5.66 billion board feet of sawtimber and wood products.

Under the worst case assumption—if all 62 million acres were designated as wilderness—there would be a loss in programmed output of nearly three billion board feet annually.

The national forests and national grasslands supply 103 million acres, or almost 41 percent of the country's publicly owned rangeland. The inventoried roadless areas contribute over 20 percent of the total grazing use of National Forest System lands.

Grazing is allowed in wilderness areas. But fewer range-management improvements are permitted in roadless areas recommended for wilderness designation, resulting in a reduction of the intensity of the grazing that may continue.

Worst case: A 30 percent decrease in grazing.

Of the inventoried 2,686 roadless areas, 137 have proven mines or producing mines for critical minerals, and 81 have proven or producing energy fields of oil, natural gas, coal or uranium.

There are also 461 roadless areas with a high potential for critical minerals and 398 acres with a high potential for oil, natural gas, coal or uranium.

Recommendation of roadless areas for wilderness status virtually precludes the class (short of a Presidential order) for intensive development of domestic water supplies, irrigation water sources, and hydroelectric energy sources.

A wilderness area may be designated as a Class I area under the Clean Air Act. Such action could mean that large land areas around a wilderness area would be precluded from development to protect the wilderness area from air pollution.

'Stay in shape during winter'

Shipping costs could escalate

(American Trucking Associations)

We hear a lot about inflation these days from the government, and all of us surely agree that it is the major domestic problem the country faces.

However, while some sections of the federal establishment appear to be genuinely trying to deal with the problem, other less-publicized government actions would actually add to the problem.

The discussion below details problems both consumers and many small communities would have with one recent federal proposal that deals with the trucking industry.

Inflation fighting by the federal government can take some funny twists. While many agencies are urging both management and labor to hold down wages and prices, another arm of government is urging changes that could cost consumers billions per year extra in food costs alone.

That agency is the Bureau of Motor Carrier Safety (BMCS), which is advocating a little-publicized plan to change the hours of service for the nation's truck drivers.

On its surface, the plan seems reasonable: to increase the amount of off-duty time for drivers by up to 60 percent following each ten hours of driving.

However, the "ripple effect" of this plan would mean both higher prices for consumers and severe economic effects in many of the nation's small communities.

It would force the trucking industry to use 10 trucks for the work nine now perform, and that could cause tremendous increases in the price of consumer items.

In official testimony on the proposal, Swift & Co. estimated it would add $2 billion to the nation's already high food bill each year.

In addition to the problems this would cause for everyone who eats, the proposal would have a disastrous effect on many communities that depend on payrolls from trucking operations and related industries.

For example, a major user of truck transportation in Pequea, Maine, 420 miles north of Boston, now employs 1,000 workers. That small community depends on the plant payroll.

But, like many small and medium sized operations, this firm can't stand to be hit with more cost increases. As its officials say:

"Any further additional costs to our operation could and will have devastating effects on this company's survival." And, if the company goes, so goes the economy of the area.

Another example:

A Florida commercial carrier of canning supplies and products says the rescheduling of drivers' hours would boost costs enough that it would cease operations. The ultimate losers: the nearby community and its residents.

Clearly, a nation with an already inflationary economy can scarcely afford any more government tinkering to cause higher prices for all of us—and severe economic hardship for many segments of the population.

"If you do nothing to stay in shape this winter, your body may pay for it next spring. People who do not exercise during the cold weather months will be prime candidates for bursitis and tendonitis when spring comes," according to John Skosey, M.D., chief of the Rheumatology Section, Department of Medicine, University of Illinois Hospital. "On the first warm day next spring, many people will exert themselves more in one day by playing tennis, golf or softball than they did the previous four months," he said. "They are the ones who are asking for trouble." Bursitis is inflammation in a "bursa," the space between muscles or muscle and bone. Tendonitis is inflammation occurring in a tendon sheath, the "slingshot" in which a tendon moves. Dr. Skosey says both conditions can result from even a minor trauma or exertion to a muscle or tendon. "Both conditions are common and there are few people who haven't had them," he said. "You can avoid the conditions by getting into shape before taking part in sports activities, or by avoiding such activities all together." Bursitis and tendonitis occur most often around the shoulders and hips. They are the areas primarily affected by unaccustomed exercises or activities. "They are treated with

"Sports participation is not the only way people can get bursitis and tendonitis. Bursitis of the knee can be caused by constant kneeling while scrubbing floors. Putting out your hand to break a fall could also cause tendonitis in the wrist. Both respond well to relatively conservative treatment. In general, they are not long-term conditions," Dr. Skosey noted. "They are treated with heat, range of motion exercises, anti-inflammatory drugs and hydro-cortisone injections. "The joint around the affected area should be used to its fullest motion or the area will become extremely stiff to the point where it is almost frozen in place. However, the pain and treatment can generally be avoided if people get in shape before exerting themselves."

Topic—word processing

"Word processing" is the demonstration of some of the topic of a training seminar sponsored by the Consortium of Vocational Educators and Employers (COVEE) that will be held on Wednesday, Nov. 29, at 6:30 p.m. at the Fairview Heights Ramada Inn. The seminar is designed to provide information of general interest on word processing, and the effects of this expanding field on business, government and the classroom. The program will feature a

Reduced county budget expected to hike rate

Madison County finance officials will present to the County Board Wednesday a new 1978-79 budget of $34,068,000, and say they hope board members will approve it without amendments because the new appropriation accounts for all available money. Although the budget is $1,120,091 lower than last year's appropriation of $35,178,991, it is expected to result in a county tax rate increase of 2.1 cents per $100 valuation. The higher rate, finance officials said, will be necessary to offset projected reductions in the county's non-tax income such as federal revenue sharing allocations and Community Development grants. The estimated rise of 2.1 cents in the rate would result in a 1978 county rate of 36.7 cents per $100 assessed valuation, up from the 1977 rate of 34.6 cents. William Little, chairman of the County Board finance committee, said he believes the new budget, despite the slight tax increase, represents a holding of the line on county expenditures. He emphasized that the projected higher rate of 36.7 cents still will be lower than the 1977 rate which was 38 cents per $100 assessed valuation. "We feel we've spent all the money possible. If we start amending things we may be in the red next year," he said. One such possible amendment might involve increasing the county board's own budget which was cut for 1979 from $296,700 in 1978 to $236,300. Assistant State's Attorney Don Smith confirms that he has been asked to give an opinion on whether such an increase would be legal. Smith said he prefers not to decide that opinion before giving it to board members. He did say that Illinois state statute decrees that any increases must be made before election of county board members. The County Board recently voted $5,500 per year flat salaries to the half of its membership elected Nov. 7. The other half will remain on $40 per diem until the next election. Some board members who attend more meetings than others feel the flat salary discriminates against them. Among the factors resulting in a higher tax rate for a reduced budget are a projected reduction in the county's federal revenue sharing allocations during the 1978-79 year, figured at $900,000, compared to $1,170,000 last year, and a smaller allotment of Community Development funds, $4,346,825 during 1979, compared with $4,644,325 last year. The county also is still in the process of paying for its new punch card voting system, increasing the voting machine fund budget by $340,167. In addition, the budgets of most departments went up, despite numerous cuts made by the finance committee. Salaries represented the largest cost item. But there was some good news, too. Manpower funding is to be $1,364,842 more for 1979 than for this year ($8,022,045 in 1978; $9,386,887 in 1979). The county's special tax fund, for jail construction will decrease $2 million; the federal aid matching fund tax is $215,900 less for 1979 than this year. Little said state-mandated programs are causing the county its biggest problem in holding down spending. He gave as one example a state law raising judges' salaries. "The state didn't pay for the increases... we did." The circuit court budget for 1979 is $40,000 higher than this year's — the budget proposed for 1979 is $446,337 compared to $410,406 this year, with $215,257 of the circuit court budget to go for salaries. A number of county departments took voluntary cuts in the amounts they originally requested to cut the budget below that of last year, the finance chairman said. The county budget is made up of the general fund, special tax accounts and non-tax accounts. The proposed general fund budget for 1979 is $10,684,461, an increase of $891,143 over this year's budget. The general fund is at its 12-cent maximum, which means that taxes will produce only $1,400,000 of the amount needed, Little says. The rest will come from fees, sales tax and other revenue sources. The special tax funds, proposed for 1979 represent a decrease of $3,077,896 from this year... with the $2 million dropped from the jail construction fund accounting for much of the decrease. The proposed total for the special tax funds in 1979 is $9,670,727; this year's total was $12,748,623. The third category — the non-tax fund for Community Development and Manpower totals $13.7 million for 1979 in contrast to this year's total of $12.7 million.

LET'S TALK TURKEY

It's Just Another Reason Why You'll do Better at A&P!

LET'S TALK TURKEY
 With proper selection, handling and cooking, you can take advantage of one of the best meat buys in the supermarket. Turkey is a lean meat, low in fat and calories. It is also a good source of protein and iron. Turkey is available in many forms, including whole, half, quarter, and boneless. It is also available in a variety of cuts, including breast, thigh, and leg. When selecting a turkey, look for a fresh, plump bird with a clear, watery eye. The skin should be dry and the feathers should be clean. The turkey should be stored in a cool, dry place and should be cooked within 24 hours of purchase. For more information on how to select and cook a turkey, see the article on page 24.

HAPPY FAMILY. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond L. D. Smith, Jr., 4059 Bruene Ave., with their first child at St. Elizabeth Hospital. The new arrival, a boy, was born Oct. 29, and weighed eight pounds eight ounces. He has been named Raymond L. D. Smith III.

GC man once paralyzed and near death in fall, now father of first son

A young Granite City couple are marveling over what they term as miracles in their lives with the birth of a son Oct. 29 at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Roxann Lynn Beyrau and Raymond L. D. Smith, Jr., were engaged to be married. On Dec. 13, 1976, he was injured seriously in a fall at Granite City Steel where he was working, shattering all their plans as the doctors did not think he would ever be able to walk again.

Ray suffered a broken neck, broken back in two places, broken right shoulder and ribs on the right side, and suffered a collapsed left lung and abrasions covering most of his body in the accident.

According to the young father, the doctors diagnosis was a merciful death if not paralysis from neck down and brain damage. He spent eight weeks in the Intensive Care Unit at Firmin Deagle Hospital in St. Louis, and lost 60 pounds during that time.

He was then taken to Jewish Hospital where he underwent intensive rehabilitation for movement of a big toe, then to walking and partial use of upper limbs.

"I believe the extent of my recovery is due to the many prayers from my friends and family, God's presence during my many months in the hospital, and Roxann's encouragement, loyalty and love."

Ray said the young couple were never sure they could ever be married, or if they could have children, their dreams came true on Sept. 10, 1977, when they were united in marriage at the First Assembly of God Church.

Performing the ceremony was the Rev. Dale Edwards and the Rev. Jeff Smith, the latter minister of the Community Heights Assembly of God Church.

As Mr. and Mrs. Smith said, "To further confirm our faith we became the parents of our first child, a boy, on Oct. 29, at St. Elizabeth Hospital. The new arrival weighed eight pounds eight ounces and was named Raymond L. D. Smith III."

Mrs. Smith is the former Roxann Lynn Beyrau, the daughter of Mrs. June Beyrau.

Illinois still in the forefront of U. S. House leadership

By ROBERT ESTILL
Press-Record
Washington Bureau

Although Illinois gets a disproportionately small share of federal aid, it does not get short-changed on House leadership posts.

In the next Congress, as with the outgoing 1977-78 Congress, Illinois should have more than its share of influential and ego-boosting jobs.

In the outgoing Congress, Illinois held four of the top dozen House leadership posts, exclusive of committee chairmanships.

When House members caucus in December to choose leaders for the next two years, Illinoisans probably will emerge with three of those jobs.

The only certain leadership is Rep. Abner Mikva, D-Evanston, forced to abdicate as chairman of the Democratic study group.

The DSG, composed of about 225 moderate to liberal Democrats, does not allow a chairman to serve more than one term.

Mikva's exodus will not come until late February or early March because the DSG, a reform-oriented group, does not like to change officers while Congress is adopting rules for the coming session.

Most of the cast of characters in the House Democratic leadership will be the same. Rep. Dan Rostenkowski, D-Chicago, is expected to remain chief deputy whip, the number four spot among House Democrats.

Nor are there likely to be many new faces among the Republican chiefs who will lead a minority outnumbered 276 to 159 despite a gain of a dozen seats in the Nov. 7 general election.

Rep. Robert Michel, R-Peoria, is virtually a sure bet for a third term as minority whip, the number two spot in the GOP hierarchy.

Rep. John B. Anderson, R-Rockford, is favored for a sixth term in the third-ranking spot of chairman of the GOP conference, the forum for Republicans to hash out stands on issues.

There has been considerable speculation Michel would try to move from number two to number one by unseating minority leader John Rhodes, R-Arizona.

But, with the GOP leadership meeting drawing near, Michel is making no moves and is discounting any inclination to dump Rhodes.

"I am quite happy where I am," he said. "I know there has been this sniping (against Rhodes), but I am personally willing, for another two years, to have the situation as it is."

Michel fears that a "fractious kind of hassle" for the GOP leadership post would divide Republicans at a time when the GOP has been able to make gains in Congress and in the statehouses nationwide.

The only way he would consider taking on Rhodes would be if someone else mounts a serious challenge to the Arizona Republican.

In the event, Michel feels he is as well qualified as anybody for Rhodes' job. But, at this point, no challenger to Rhodes has surfaced.

Anderson will have opposition for his conference chairman post.

Rep. Thomas Kindness, a conservative Ohioan, had been looking for an alternative to Anderson and decided that he fit the bill himself.

Kindness said he is tackling Anderson for two basic reasons.

He feels Anderson's moderate philosophy is not representative of congressional Republicans. Kindness also believes Anderson may not have time to be conference chairman since he is trying to determine if he would have sufficient support to make a bid for the 1980 nomination for president.

Anderson also has problems with at least one of his fellow Illinois Republicans, Rep. Philip Crane of Mount Prospect.

Crane has been quoted as saying he hopes an effort will be made to unseat Anderson as conference chairman, but that he would not be personally involved.

Anderson's response was that he was disappointed but not surprised by that attitude.

The Crane-Anderson strife probably can be chalked up to the fact that their ambitions are as similar as their philosophies are conflicting.

While Anderson speaks for Republican moderates and liberals, Crane, the American Conservative Union chairman,

Dyslexic pupils can be helped

Students with mental deficiency, brain damage or emotional disturbances may still be failing or falling behind in school because of a specific language disability (SLD) called dyslexia.

Manifestations of dyslexia include delay in learning to talk; inadequate spoken language; difficulty in learning or remembering printed words; reversal of some letters, such as b, d, p, q, and reversal of letter order in words, such as "was," and "saw," "quiet" and "quite."

St. Louis University is sponsoring a workshop Dec. 9-10 to introduce the Slingerland Method of working with dyslexic children. Beth Slingerland, whose diagnostic test frequently is used by school districts, developed the method.

The method is designed for use in regular classrooms and incorporates existing curricular materials.

The seminar is directed toward reading supervisors, teachers, administrators and school board members. Parents of dyslexic children would benefit from the Dec. 9 session, a spokesman said.

The Dec. 9 session will be held from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., and Dec. 10 from 9 a.m. to noon. Both will be in Carlo Auditorium, Teger Hall, 3650 Lindell Blvd.

The non-credit fee for both days is $26 and $15 for Dec. 9 only. For one hour of graduate credit, the two-day fee is $75.

The seminar will provide background information of the specific language disability syndrome, multi-sensory instructional techniques to use with SLD students, information about using phonics, and demonstrations of the Slingerland screening procedure.

Army recruiters honored

Three Army recruiters who work out of the Army Recruiting Station at 3675 Nameki Road in Granite City have been honored for outstanding performance of their official duties.

The three are station commander Staff Sergeant John Keene, Sergeant First Class Donna Bramley and Staff Sergeant Larry Baker.

They were cited as "Superstars of Army Recruiting" by the U.S. Army St. Louis District Recruiting Command.

Young people who can meet the Army's physical and aptitude standards may contact the Army recruiters in Granite City to learn more about Army opportunities.

They have information on skill training, educational aid, travel options, and the many other benefits the Army offers, a spokesman said. They may be called at (618) 876-5850. Out of town call may be made collect.

U.S. children send Christmas greetings

CHRISTMAS SEAL greetings from the children of America are displayed on this year's seals issued by the American Lung Association's 200 affiliated groups and the National Art Education Association to help the campaign against lung diseases, smoking and air pollution. The images on the seals were painted by kindergarten through third grade youngsters in every state and territory. Paintings shown were selected from: first row, left to right, Alabama, Utah, Iowa, Second row, from left, West Virginia, Arizona, Illinois, Third row, from left, New York, Oklahoma, North Carolina. Fourth row, from left, Nevada, Washington State and Hawaii.

How does the world look through very young, wide-open eyes? Clean as a white puffy cloud. And happy.

This year's Christmas Seals, painted by youngsters in kindergarten through third grade, are full of fantasy and fun and they are splashed with bright, red smiles.

Images on the 1978 Christmas Seals were created by children in every U.S. state and territory in a project co-sponsored by American Lung Association and the National Art Education Association.

For the 72nd year, these tiny bits of paper are spearheading the lung associations' campaign against lung diseases, air pollution and smoking.

Lewis-Clark Lung Association in Wood River is one of 200 such groups across the nation currently conducting the annual Christmas Seal Campaign — the drive to raise funds to fight all lung diseases.

The association serves Madison, Jersey and Calhoun counties. Little lungs need extra protection because they keep on developing during the first decade, and they are especially susceptible to infection, cigarette smoke and air pollution. In fact, lungs are the organs most subject to disease in children.

Long-term lung diseases, like asthma and bronchitis, affect 5 million children. Half of all short-term sickness in kids is respiratory illness.

If today's youngsters grow up to be nonsmokers, say lung association officials, that single fact alone would cause a dramatic drop in adult lung disease.

Shari Lewis, TV star, puppeteer, ventriloquist, author, comedienne, recording artist, newspaper columnist and symphony orchestra conductor is National Honorary Christmas Seal Chairman for 1978.

Christmas Seal contributions received last year from Calhoun, Jersey and Madison County citizens paid for the following health and education projects:

The annual regional youth conference on smoking and health, attended by 400 students in grades four, five and six; special Farmer's Lung Disease pamphlets for 3,400 farm families; tuberculin skin tests for Head Start enrollees in all three counties; three Stop Smoking Clinics attended by 57 adults, 40 of whom quit smoking.

Exhibits and displays at numerous health fairs sponsored by other organizations; tuberculin skin tests on a continuing year-round basis for three children's clinics whose patients are financially deprived; use of a mobile animated educational exhibition smoking which traveled 796 miles, visited 16 schools, and demonstrated the dangers of smoking to 2,800 students and teachers.

An anti-smoking program, developed especially for students in kindergarten through third grades, was presented in 21 schools and public libraries for 1,803 youngsters.

Films, loaned or shown by Lewis-Clark Lung Association staff members, were seen by nearly 12,000 area residents who wanted to learn about lung diseases, were distributed in the area.

If the children who painted the Christmas Seals could create the real world the way they wanted it, it would be filled with clean skies and happy smiles.

If all Americans answered their Christmas Seal appeals promptly and generously, there also could be a lot less lung disease.

The extent of lung disease is vast. A total of 17 million men, women and children in the U.S. suffer from one or more chronic respiratory diseases.

More than 1,300,000 have irreversible, lung-crippling emphysema. Six million people report having asthma.

Each year 300,000 die prematurely from cigarette-caused diseases.

Over 33,000 children under 5 years die each year of respiratory disease, nearly 20,000 of them in the first month of life.

Acute respiratory disease account for more than half of all school absenteeism.

The chances of dying from chronic bronchitis and emphysema are six times greater for smokers than nonsmokers and cigarette smoking is a major cause of both diseases. More than 6.5 million people suffered from chronic bronchitis.

Over 55,000 Americans die each year from flu and pneumonia and Americans spend more than 300 million dollars in bed each year because of colds and flu.

The total economic cost of diseases of the respiratory system is estimated at $16.3 billion each year.

About 32,000 Americans now have TB disease; 15 million Americans are infected with TB germs and could develop tuberculosis.

Informative leaflets published by the American Lung Association, written in easy to understand language, are available from the local Christmas Seal group — Lewis-Clark Lung Association, 523 Old St. Louis Road, P.O. Box 158, Wood River, Ill. 62095.

Interested persons may write to that address or call — 1-284-7928 — and ask for the facts about air pollution, asthma, bronchiectasis, chronic bronchitis, chronic cough, cigarette smoking, common cold, dust diseases, emphysema, flu, hay fever, histoplasmosis, pipe and cigar smoking, pleurisy, pneumonia, sarcoidosis, second-hand smoke, shortness of breath, TB outside the lungs, tuberculosis, or the condition of one's own lungs, association officers said.

FUTURE ACCOUNTANT: Kathy McGee (left), a junior majoring in accounting at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, gets some practical experience as a cashier in the university cafeteria. The student worker is a resident of Granite City.

University registration

Registration for SUE winter quarter classes will begin Dec. 5. Robert Bruker, director of admissions and records, said registration by appointment only is set for Dec. 5 and 6 from 8:30 a.m. until 7 p.m.

Open registration is scheduled Dec. 7 and Jan. 2 during the same hours. All registration activities will be conducted in Meridian Ballroom of the University Center.

Winter quarter classes begin Jan. 2 at 4:30 p.m. Students who find it necessary to make changes in their schedules may do so beginning Jan. 4. Other dates for returning students include Jan. 8, last day to pay fees without a late fee, and Jan. 9, last day to add a class without a permit.

Jan. 15 is the last day fees will be accepted with a late fee and the last day for refund of fees. Jan. 16 is the last day to add a class with a permit.

Final day to drop a class without receiving a grade will be Jan. 26. That will also be the final day to change audit or credit status.

Jan. 29 will be the first day to pick up an appointment card for spring quarter registration.

The last day to withdraw from a class or school will be Feb. 29, and the week of Feb. 26 will be the week to declare pass-no credit for undergraduate classes.

Final examinations for the winter quarter will be held during the week of March 13-17. Students who have not attended classes at the university within the past year should check their status with the Office of Admissions and Records before registering for classes, Bruker said.

Members of the community who would like to attend classes at the university for the first time this winter are to apply for admission immediately. Applications for admission are available in the Office of Admissions and Records.

'Playing it by ear....'

By GARRY N. MURPHY
SUE Department of English

NOT BY EAR ALONE — Whenever we write, we naturally hear an imaginary voice forming the words. There really is no way possible. The trouble begins when a writer relies too heavily on his own speech as a model.

A good writer will test his writing "by ear," but he will not try to compose "by ear" alone. Too often, the ear—even a well-trained ear—can be fooled. Take for example, these common mix-ups, which are generally regarded as misspellings: "use to" and "suppose to." It would be tempting to label these as mishearings, not misspellings, of "used to" and "supposed to." But they are not mishearings, either. No one ever pronounces both the "d" and the "t," unless he is determined to be comically fastidious.

Being nearly identical, the two sounds blend together, and all that can be heard is the "t."

A similar kind of hearing problem is betrayed when a writer transcribes "could've" (could have) and "should've" (should have) as "could of" and "should of," or "coulda" and "shouda." MORAL: You can write by ear only if you listen with the mind's eye.
